Making Good.

There is no way of making lasting friends like "Making Good," and Doctor Pierce's medicine will exemplify this, and their friends, after more than two decades of popularity, are numbered by the hundreds of thousands. They have "made good" and they have not made drunkards.

A good, honest, square-deal medicine of known composition is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It still enjoys an immense sale, while most of the preparations that have come into prominence in the earlier period of its popularity have "gone by the board" and are never more heard of. There must be some reason for this long-time popularity and that is to be found in its superior merits. When once given a fair trial for weak stomach, or for liver and blood affections, its superior curative qualities soon manifest themselves. It has survived and grown in popular favor, while scores of less meritorious articles have suddenly faded into favor for a brief period and then been as soon forgotten.

For a torpid liver with its attendant indigestion, dyspepsia, headache, nervousness, dizziness, faint, breath, nausea, tongue, with bitter taste, loss of appetite, with distress after eating, nervousness and debility, nothing is so good as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is an honest, square-deal medicine with all its ingredients printed on bottle-wrapper—no secret, no hocus-pocus humbug, therefore don't accept a substitute that the dealer may possibly make a little bigger profit. Insist on your right to have what you call for.

Don't buy Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription expecting it to prove a "cure-all." It is only advised for women's special ailments. It makes weak women strong and sick women well. It is advertised in some newspapers for sale for like purposes, its sterling curative virtues still maintain its position in the front ranks, where it stood over two decades ago. As an invigorating tonic and strengthening nerve it is unequalled. It won't satisfy those who want "booster," for there is not a drop of alcohol in it.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, the original Little Liver Pills, although the first pill of their kind in the market, still lead, and when once tried are ever afterwards in favor. Easy to take as candy—only three or four a dose. Much imitated but never equaled.

KIDNAPPER KILLED.

William Patterson kidnapped a Mrs. Sergeant in Ligonier, Ind., yesterday afternoon, and was shot dead by a posse which went in pursuit. Patterson's brother-in-law fired the fatal shot after he himself had been wounded by a shot from the abductor.

The affair was sensational in the extreme. Patterson, at the point of a revolver, compelled a hotel keeper to assist him in taking the woman from a carriage and placing her in his automobile. The posse pursued in an automobile, and a running fusillade of shots was fired between Patterson and pursuers before the abductor was killed in the flying shot ing battle.

Patterson is proprietor of a passenger boat plying on the waters of Lake Wawasee. Mrs. Sergeant was a resident of the town of Lake Wawasee and a particular friend of Mrs. Patterson. Recently Patterson and his wife separated, and Patterson blamed Mrs. Sergeant for the trouble. Patterson had been drinking heavily, and it is believed he intended to murder her.

Yesterday afternoon Patterson procured an automobile and drove to Ligonier. He went straight to the Hotel Goldsmith, where Mrs. Sergeant had been stopping, only to find that the woman had gone to the home of Dr. Frank, Mrs. Patterson's father. Telling S. H. Hoover, landlord of the Hotel Goldsmith, that Mrs. Sergeant was a dangerous counterfeiter, and that he (Patterson) was a detective, he compelled Hoover to go with him to Dr. Frank's house. They started in the automobile, and on the way met a carriage containing Dr. Frank and Mrs. Sergeant. Stopping the carriage Patterson, with drawn revolver, ordered the woman to get into the automobile with him.

She refused. He thereupon covered the doctor with his revolver and by main force pulled Mrs. Sergeant from the vehicle. Dragging her to the automobile he compelled Hoover to assist him in putting the woman in the back seat. Then he started the machine at full speed toward Millersburg.

The news of the abduction spread quickly and a posse, headed by Ernest Franks, Mrs. Patterson's brother, started in pursuit in a touring car.

Patterson's automobile was overtaken by the posse just outside of Millersburg, near the Wabash railway station. Seeing that his pursuers were gaining upon him he stood up in the automobile and opened fire. A shot struck his brother-in-law in the thigh. Franks returned the fire and Patterson fell dead at almost the first shot. Mrs. Sergeant was not injured.

No arrests have as yet been made, and it is not known whether any will be. Patterson was known to have been greatly intoxicated earlier in the day. He raised a disturbance on the passenger train on his way to Ligonier.
